

Riipen is a technology platform that facilitates experiential learning opportunities. With Riipen, you can easily connect assignments or educator-designed competitions to businesses and non-profits that have real time projects for your students to work on.

What Can Riipen Do For You As An Educator?

- Connect you to a network of over 10,000 businesses and non-profits
- Manage your experiential learning project using project-management tools that will save you time
- Improve the classroom experience
- Get feedback from the business community on student skills

Easily connect with businesses and non-profits globally and provide experiential learning opportunities for your students.

How Does It Work?

- 1 Post your course to the Riipen marketplace using one of our many templates. Connect with a business project that fits your students' learning outcomes.
- 2 Use our project management features to engage with the industry partner and students effectively.
- 3 Students complete projects and receive verified feedback on skills from industry partners.
- 4 Duplicate your course page for your next teaching semester to connect with new business partners

Connect with students to get new insights on your business problems, manage the connections online, and build a talent pool for recruitment.

Gain valuable experience that will help you enter the work force, grow your network, and make more out of your education.

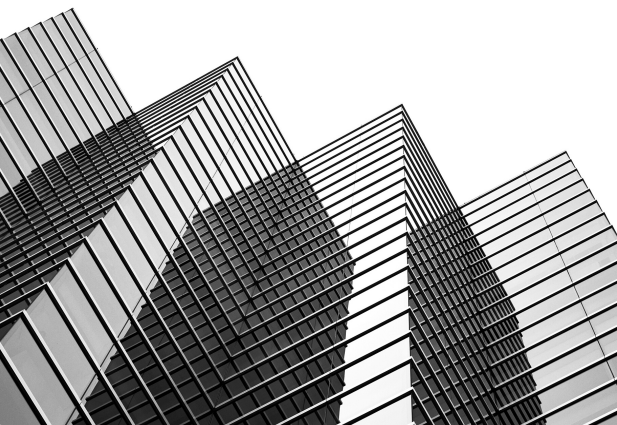

EXPAND CLASSROOM EXPERIENCES

Students require more than just the knowledge they learn in class to succeed in the workplace. Give your students a head start by applying real-world challenges to the curriculum.

MANAGE W.I.L. ENGAGEMENTS

Communication can easily get lost when dealing with a lot of different people. Our project management tools help ensure things stay on track.

CONNECT WITH INDUSTRY PARTNERS

It can be challenging to find and coordinate with a suitable industry partner. The Riipen marketplace allows you to connect with local and international companies and non-profits who are ready to engage with students.

CREATE A STRONGER FUTURE

Join Riipen in shaping the future of work. Help students build valuable work-ready skills, play a role in closing the skills gap, and help build a stronger future.
